Bali Immersed in Balinese Mystique

Photography by Gabriel Ulung

The comfort and services of a first-class hotel with the relaxing tranquillity of a secluded private resort.

Villa Kembali is a contemporary interpretation of traditional Balinese architecture artfully combined with modern amenities to create a relaxed environment in harmony with its natural surroundings.

Comprised of 7 individual alang-alang-roofed structures (the dining pavilion, the kitchen, the living room/bar, bedrooms 1 & 2, bedrooms 3 & 4, bedroom 5 and the massage bale) Villa Kembali has a triple spa pool at river level and a swimming pool on the middle level. Bedroom 5 has its own plunge pool.

Villa Kembali offers an ingenious combination of original and traditional architecture and interior design.

From the impressive main entry stairs there is access to a spacious dining pavilion. It features a high-thatched ceiling, a large round teak table – seating ten to twelve – with stunning views over the river and pool below. An adjoining fully-equipped European-style kitchen caters to every need and includes a comprehensive East meets West menu. Three of the expansive air-conditioned king bedrooms are accessed via romantic pathways leading from the dining pavilion. The fifth king-sized bedroom is at entry level above the dining pavilion with its own decked plunge pool.

This multi-structure villa, a little west of Seminyak, offers many of the attributes treasured in the old-world Bali style: seclusion in a natural environment, a blending of living areas with the surrounding tropical gardens and separate buildings for specific purposes. And this large villa cascades down a delightful series of terraces that reach the small river seen here.

White walls and dark wood trim enhance the villa's cream terrazzo floors, juxtaposed against the greenery of the tropical plants located throughout the property. High ceilings in the open pavilions add another dimension of spaciousness, with overhead fans for added ventilation. All bedrooms, gracious in proportion, have king-size beds with draped mosquito net canopies, air-conditioners and overhead fans. Beautiful antique furniture and carved wooden architectural features add to the ambience of the elegant interiors. From each of the king bedrooms, glass panelled doors open onto private terraces overlooking the garden and pool areas.

A large informal lounge bale (Balinese gazebo) overlooks the pool and river, making the ideal spot for afternoon drinks and quiet repose. The sound of slow flowing water from the river below and the dancing of bamboo in the breeze provide a natural serenade.

Open living spaces on Kembali are made possible, and completely private, by the seclusion of this villa, and its complete envelopment within a deep and leafy forest that walls off both sides of the villa and turns the facing river bank into a dense backdrop of tropical foliage.

Location

The villa's private little world of tranquility and indulgence lies in the midst of the traditional village of Cepaka. Village and villa are set, jewel-like, in a dramatic setting of the volcanoes of Bali, with emerald terraces of rice, tropical forests and ancient temples all around.

Cepaka lies safely beyond the urban sprawl, which has overrun Kuta Beach and Seminyak – yet it is still close to Bali's fabled attractions, including its diverse and vibrant night-life. Popular tourist destinations like Kintamani, Tanah Lot and Ubud are easily accessible.

The villa sits above a tributary of the famous Ayang River on the southwestern coast of Bali. North of Legian and Seminyak, the drive there takes you past verdant terraced rice fields and spectacular scenery.
